

Charleswood Consulting

Workforce Data & HR Decision Support

Contact: justin.nuahn@gmail.com

What We Do

Charleswood Consulting provides workforce data and HR decision support to small and mid-sized organizations. We help leadership teams better organize, interpret, and use their existing HR data to make clearer decisions around staffing, cost, utilization, and workforce risk.

Our work is project-based and executive-focused—designed to add senior-level HR perspective without adding headcount or changing systems.

How We Help

Organizations often have the data they need, but not the time or perspective to turn it into decision-ready insight. Charleswood Consulting bridges that gap through structured analysis and practical guidance leaders can act on.

- Workforce and headcount analysis
- Labor cost and utilization trends
- Turnover, retention, and workforce risk indicators
- Org structure and role clarity review
- HR data cleanup and decision-ready reporting

Engagement Model

- Project-based or limited ongoing support
- Works alongside internal HR, Finance, or Operations
- Complements (does not replace) HRIS or analytics vendors
- No system implementations or HR operations ownership

Who It's For

- CEOs, CFOs, COOs, and senior leaders
- Organizations without in-house workforce analytics capability
- Teams seeking clarity before growth, restructuring, or cost decisions
- Leaders who value experienced HR judgment grounded in data

About

Charleswood Consulting is led by Justin Nuahn, an experienced HR leader with over 20 years of experience supporting organizations through workforce planning, organizational change, and complex people decisions.